Will EPC contracts provide for the handover of a solar facility? EPC Contracts will not provide for the handover of the solar facility to the Project Company, and the PPA will not become effective until all commissioning and reliability trialling has been successfully completed. Should you choose an EPC contract for a solar project? Given the significant monetary value of EPC Contracts, and the potential adverse consequences if problems occur during construction, the lowest price should not be the only factor used when selecting a Contractor. As noted earlier, an EPC Contract is one of a suite of agreements necessary to develop a solar project. Why should you choose total solar for your EPC project? Total Solar is equally active in the development of EPC projects. We ensure that the solar panel system is designed, inspected, and then constructed so that it can harvest the maximum amount of electricity for the respective application. What happens if the EPC contract is uncertain? Any uncertainty in the EPC Contract may unfortunately see the Contractor liaising directly with these third parties and possibly risking the relationship of the Project Company with key influencers, customers and long-term neighbours. Are roof-mounted solar panels a good choice? Roof-mounted solar is an attractive choice for many homeowners. The panels can easily blend into the roofline, and they are especially suitable if you do not have a lot of free space on the ground. Plus, with quality DIY solar panel kits coming with 25 years warranty, you can be sure your investment will last for years to come.
